

Chromatherapy Lighting

The use of light as therapy is an ancient form of holistic medicine that is the subject of intense medical and commercial research. Research shows a direct correlation between light intensity, hue and color to human physiology and psychology. Basically, light therapy can be used to improve physical and mental health.

We are not experts in this field and do not pretend that we are. We do however accept the body of evidence in support of light as therapy and encourage its use by offering a chromo therapy lighting option that allows our bathers to compliment the positive health therapy of our massaging bath systems.

Our lighting option allows you to add one or two light fixtures that operate concurrently. The operation is simple so that you can easily choose between rainbow effects of gradually changing colors or choose a specific fixed color. We encourage you to research light and learn about the physiological and psychological effects different colors can have on you so that you can choose fixed colors with specific health intent.

To operate the chromo therapy light simply press the switch once and the light turns on in Rainbow Mode where it will flow through the hues of red, pink, violet, purple, orange, yellow, white, green, aqua, olive green, blue, dark blue and light blue. Press a second time to freeze at a specific color hue.

To obtain the color desired simply wait for your preferred color as the light cycles through rainbow mode and press the switch for the second time while your color is shown and the color will freeze on your selection. Press a third time and you will turn the light off.

Please note that the light is programmed to automatically turn itself off after one hour. This feature assures the longevity of the light in case you have accidentally left it on following your bath or in case someone has accidentally turned it on while in the bathroom.

Switch is available with a white or biscuit inner surface and a white, biscuit, chrome, brass, or brushed nickel trim ring.
